Phone Investigation Recording

Investigator: Is that Doctor Gong Li from Beijing General Hospital of Chinese People's Armed Police Forces?

Dr. Gong Li: Yes, speaking.

Investigator: Can your hospital still do liver transplantation?

Dr. Gong Li: Yes, we can. Who is that?

Investigator: I'm in Guangdong. A patient with Blood Type B has already done the preliminary examinations. He's the type of people, who want to do (liver transplantation). He suffers from liver failure. How long does he need to wait for the donor organ?

Dr. Gong Li: If it is found tomorrow, we can do it tomorrow.

Investigator: So soon.

Dr. Gong Li: Yes, you just need to wait for about more than 10 days.

Investigator: You mean more than 10 days at most, right? Most of cases are 2 weeks, right?

Dr. Gong Li: Yes, yes, yes.

Investigator: Director Zang has left, so who's operating the surgeries now?

Dr. Gong Li: Lots of our doctors can do that.

Investigator: Oh, lots of your doctors can do.

Dr. Gong Li: We do several hundred cases a year.

Investigator: How many cases have you done this year?

Dr. Gong Li: Probably just more than 200 cases this year.

Investigator: Oh, you really have done a lot, how about last year?

Dr. Gong Li: We did a lot last year. The number of our patients is particularly large now, and there is also a particular abundance of liver sources. Investigator: Oh, how many did you do last year? 500 cases?

Dr. Gong Li: 300 cases.
