He Xiaoshun: Vice President of the First Affiliated Hospital, Sun Yat-sen University (2)
The Second Investigation Date: November 16, 2018 (13802510799)

Summary

Investigator: Since on one hand, it is the issue of skills, on the other hand, it is the issue of the organ. The organs you use, I know they are from Falun Gong practitioners, so the organs must be good. Combining these two factors, it would be perfect.

He Xiaoshun: Correct.

Phone Investigation Recording

He Xiaoshun: Hello!

Investigator: Ah, President He (He Xiaoshun) from the First Affiliated Hospital, Sun Yat-sen University, just called me, right?

He Xiaoshun: Ah, yes.

Investigator: Ah, how do you do, President He! The situation is like this, I am the person from Sichuan's Political and Legal Affairs Commission, who called you yesterday. There are a few things that I did not hear clearly from you, and I really want to find out more details. You mentioned that you have a new technology, that is, which can shorten the warm ischemia time, correct?

He Xiaoshun: Correct, we do have it... actually, it is not shortening the time, it is to (inaudible)

Investigator: Oh, really? That means there is no more warm ischemia time at all, right?

He Xiaoshun: Right, right. We always perform the [organ] transplants when the livers continuously have blood circulation during the whole process.

Investigator: Oh, being performed when there is always blood circulation. What is the name of your technology?

He Xiaoshun: It is, we call it "no ischemia". There is no loss of blood, so it is called "no ischemia liver transplant."

Investigator: Oh, let me confirm with you one more time. So, the organs you currently use are all from Falun Gong (practitioners), who are healthy, so they are very healthy organs, right?

He Xiaoshun: Uh, right. There is no need to rinse [the organs] with ice-cold water or to preserve them in ice. All such procedures can be omitted!

Investigator: Oh, that makes sense. So inherently, organs from Falun Gong (practitioners) are very good, on top of that, there is no issue of warm ischemia, it would be even better.

He Xiaoshun: Right, right.

Investigator: Ah, now I am clear about the situation, about the issue of donors. As you know, the donors, the organs have a direct impact on the successfulness of the operation.

He Xiaoshun: You are right.

Investigator: Good, good. Because on one hand, it is the issue of skills, on the other hand, it is the issue of the organ. The organs you use, I know they are from Falun Gong practitioners, so the organs must be good. Combining both factors, it would be perfect.

He Xiaoshun: Correct.

Investigator: Good, all right. Thank you!

He Xiaoshun: All right.

Investigator: Hmm, bye.
