Phone Investigation Recording

Nurse: Hello?

Investigator: Hi, is that Nanjing... (Nurse: Hi!) Kidney Transplant Department of General Hospital of Nanjing Military Command of PLA?

Nurse: Yes. Where are you calling from?

Investigator: Me? I’m calling from Wuxi City. I have a relative, who wants to do a kidney transplant. Do you still do it here?

Nurse: Yes, you can come to our clinic first.

Investigator: Are you saying that you have been doing it all along?

Nurse: Yes, we are doing kidney transplants.

Investigator: But I still have a question: do you do a lot? If you perform a lot of surgeries, we would think that there is hope for us. So, have you done a lot this year? Or you have done only a few cases?

Nurse: Yes, we’ve done a quite a lot this year. Over 100 cases so far.

Investigator: Oh, one year. How many have you done this year? How many?

Nurse: We’ve done a quite a few this year, over several dozen. We haven’t noticed the number yet, ‘cos I’m a nurse, there are no statistics available here.

Investigator: Are you saying that you can do over 100 cases a year, in ballpark?

Nurse: Right, right.

Investigator: Could you tell me which director usually does the kidney transplant surgeries?

Nurse: We only have two directors. One is Director Wen Jiqu, the other is Director Cheng Dongrui. They both do it. This is not what you have to worry about for now. Just come and have a checkup and he will schedule it for you.

Investigator: Are your donors generally healthy, just like before?

Nurse: I'm not clear on this, because we don't know anything about the donors' information ourselves. Do you understand?

Investigator: Ok, ok. That's all. Thank you very much! Bye now!

Nurse: Ok, you're welcome, bye!
