Phone Investigation Recording

Investigator: Hello? How are you?

Doctor: Ah.

Investigator: I am from Handan. I would like to ask, are you still performing kidney transplants at the Second Hospital of Hebei Medical University?

Doctor: Yes, we are. You need to make an appointment. You need to register; you have to register.

Investigator: Oh? Need to register? How long is the queue?

Doctor: Hm, you can have it done after we secure the kidney. The queue is not short.

Investigator: Oh, not short? Do you do a lot? Did you do many kidney transplants this year?

Doctor: Not bad! Last month, we did 6 cases last month.

Investigator: Well, which doctor should we ask for? Is it Director Liu, Liu Kailong?

Doctor: Right, right, Director Liu, Director Liu.

Investigator: How many cases would you say could be performed this year, for kidney transplants? If you are doing a lot, I would feel more confident.

Doctor: Last month...6 cases last month. This month...there will be more in this couple of days again, I just heard they say, we should have more coming in this couple of days.

Investigator: That is...for this year, would it be over 100 cases this year?

Doctor: No, not that many. We don't have so many kidney sources over here.

Investigator: Oh, you said a few dozens a year? Not more than 100? No more than 100 in such a big hospital?

Doctor: Right. The main reason is the shortage of kidney sources. No shortage of patients waiting in queue.

Investigator: Then how come the kidney sources are so few? In Beijing, a hospital has many.

Doctor: No one is donating!

Investigator: No one is donating?

Doctor: no one is donating.

Investigator: I thought that...

Doctor: For detailed information, for the specifics, you go inquire at the organ transplant department's outpatient clinic, OK? Please don't ask me the specific questions. OK? I can only tell you that the transplant department's registration is open on Thursdays, OK? OK!
