Summary

“Every year our hospital performs several thousand transplants.”

Phone Investigation Recording

Investigator: Hello, is that the liver transplant ward?

Nurse: Yes.

Investigator: I am the family member of a patient. I would like to ask if you are still performing a lot of liver transplants.

Nurse: What is the ward bed number of your family member?

Investigator: He's not a patient in your ward. We are planning to come to do a liver transplant.

Nurse: Oh, in that case, you can go to the clinic to get registered and ask for the specifics.

Investigator: But I am not currently in the city. I want to phone in first to ask about your situation. If you are doing a lot of these surgeries, then I will come to line up for registration.

Nurse: If we're doing a lot... Anyway, we have been doing them for several years already.

A nurse from another ward took the phone call: Hello.

Investigator: Hello, how are you?

Nurse: Hello.

Investigator: I am the family member of a patient. Not sure in which month, when I called Zheng Susen. He said that he was already transferred to the International Hospital and suggested that I should go there, too. Later on, I researched on the Internet, and I found that the International Hospital's is a bit too high-class, so it must be pretty expensive. So I am thinking of doing the surgery in your hospital. Does he still do surgeries in this hospital?

Nurse: Yes. He is still our director here.

Investigator: That means he is doing surgeries in both hospitals?

Nurse: Right, he is still the director here.

Investigator: Oh, he asked me to go to the International Hospital. He said, "Come here, I'll wait for you". When I saw that it is such a high-class place, I was afraid to look for him again...Anyway, are you still doing many liver transplants here this year?

Nurse: Of course, we are doing a lot. Considering we are the only transplant center in Zhejiang Province.

Investigator: Some people told me to inquire about which hospital does the most transplants, so it's safer (to do it there).

Nurse: Of course, we are doing the most.....

Nurse: Every year our hospital performs several thousand transplants.

Investigator: Oh, that's a lot.

Nurse: We can talk more after you get registered. There should be designated people to provide you with consultation.

Investigator: Is there a phone number for the clinic registration?

Nurse: No, the clinic registration will not take phone calls. You should bring the patient over...

Investigator: OK, thanks.
